

MAUD THE MULE DRIVES BOY AWAY

Youth Whose Strange Actions
Lead to Arrest Blames Poor
Animal for Trouble

Steals Employer's Team, Ter-rorizes Family and After Pursuit is Captured

Henry Wallis, a 19-year-old youth, who has been working for some time on the farm of Bishop MacFarland in West Weber, was taken into custody last evening by the sheriff's forces and is now held awaiting an examination. It is feared that he is somewhat deranged owing to the local altitude, it being higher than he has been accustomed to.

The boy's home is at Johnston, Colo., where his father is a well-known farmer, and it is said that he came to this locality about three weeks ago and applied for work at the MacFarland ranch in West Weber. He was put to work and did well until a few days ago, when he began acting strangely.

Yesterday Bishop MacFarland thought best to discontinue his services and brought him to town. During the afternoon Wallis suddenly disappeared with the bishop's rig and a short time afterward a telephone call to the sheriff's office stated that he had returned there with the horse and after causing considerable alarm among the women members of the family with loud talking he had again hitched up the animal and had driven away.

Deputies Murphy and Burke started immediately for the farm and after a considerable search met the boy on the road and brought him to Ogden.

Bishop MacFarland called at the sheriff's office last evening and, turning over the wages due the boy, together with a box of clothing which had recently been shipped from Colorado, advised the officials to allow him to go. Sheriff Wilson had young Wallis brought into the office where he questioned him regarding his recent actions.

In response to the official's questions the boy told of his parents in Johnston, Colo., and recited the circumstances of his leaving home, attributing his departure to an old mule whose daily pastime was kicking him out of the stable. Her name was Maud.

Sheriff Wilson decided that it would be more prudent to detain the boy for a day or two and he will probably be sent home by the county commissioners next week.

Electrification of Road to Brig-out Delay.

The Ogden Rapid Transit company signed contracts yesterday for the purchase of $45,000 worth of copper wire and line material for the new road to Brigham City.

Superintendent Bailey stated last evening that the orders would be filled as soon as possible and that the work of electrifying the road would begin upon the receipt of the material.

The wire order amounts to some 25,000 pounds or enough to equip 25 miles of track. In some places there will be two or even three wires strung, different sizes being used for various needs.

Robling & Sons of Chicago secured a part of the order, as did the Ohio Brass company, the American Steel and Iron company and the local Electric Supply and Fixture company, represented by Ed Lawrence.

The grade already is completed to Willard and forces of men are at work every day on the northward extension.

"THE RED MILL" IS PLEASING OFFERING

Before a thoroughly appreciative, though undemonstrative, audience at the Ogden theater last night, Martin & Emery presented "The Red Mill," with the same glorious stage settings, beautiful costumes, capable cast and completely delightful production that marked the original road company last season. Bert O. Swor and Frank Woods as Kild Connor and Con Kidder, were excruciatingly funny in their respective roles and a high standard of ability was maintained throughout the company, which included, among the most talented members Otto Koerner, Alvin Laughlin, Karl Harberg, S. W. Scott, Harry R. McClain, Percy Bacon, Mabel de Nordendorf, and Vernice Martin. The chorus was pretty and charming, the male chorus was one of the best from a vocal standpoint of seasons past or present and to add the exact finishing touch, the six lovable "Dutch Kids," famous since the initial production of the tuneful opera, were there to receive frequent encores. Although the stage was a trifle small for the elaborate settings and large company, the ensembles were well worked out and the familiar, delightful musical numbers in solo and duet, as well as the popular novelties, were extremely pleasing. Aside from a few minor defects, the company compared favorably with the original "road" company, which was one of the best and the attraction was good enough, in every detail, to merit even larger patronage than that received, albeit the house was well filled.

LOCAL MAN SAYS RAWHIDE BOOMS

Back From Nevada Visit Wedell
Tells of Activity in Sagebrush State

Declares Many Rich Strikes
Have Been Made and Camp is Not Dead One

W. B. Wedell, who returned this week from a several days' trip to his Nevada mining properties, said last evening that the camp of Rawhide is booming again to a most surprising extent, and that a number of extremely rich strikes recently have been made on various properties.

The Codd Mines company, operating the St. Ives lease, which is well known to a number of local mining men, has been doing some extensive development work on the sulphide vein which was recently encountered on the 400-foot level, and a most surprising assay was secured only last week.

From only about five inches across the foot wall a sample was taken which assayed $1,600 per ton. Assay-er Bowden, in starting to screen his pulp for the assay, found his screen clogged with gold, and could not be convinced that there was not some humbug about the matter until reassured by Manager Sears that other ore from the same seam had gone proportionately as high.

This remarkable assay showed over 74 ounces of gold to the ton. Through being associated with iron, the gold is not readily apparent in the pan, but upon being roasted the yellow metal bursts forth in a manner reminding one of the placer pinnings of California in '49.

Some remarkable shipping records have been made in the Rawhide district of late, those of the Grant-Balloon Hill Mining & Leasing company being especially interesting. This firm has averaged $156.19 per ton on ore shipped since March 31, 1909, the monthly reports showing gross returns amounting to from $960 to $7,460.

A number of other properties in which Ogden men are interested have made exceptionally good showings during the past two months, and still greater strikes are expected as deeper levels are reached. While Rawhide operators are now working at 400-foot levels, it must be remembered that the better values of Goldfield were found below the 1,000-foot level, while high grade ore has been struck in the Comstock mines as low as 3,400 feet.

NAME OFFICIALS FOR RACE MEET

Wasatch Jockey Club Completes
Preparations for Ten Days'
Racing at Ogden.

Many Fast Horses Will Be Entered and Good Season
Is Anticipated.

At a meeting last night in Salt Lake City of the Wasatch Jockey club, arrangements were completed for the spring race meeting to be held at the Ogden Fair Grounds from May 25th to June 4th inclusive. This will afford the people of Ogden and surrounding country ten days of racing. The Salt Lake meeting commences June 6th.

Names of the officials who will serve, with the exception of the presiding judge, who will be named later, were announced. Following are the officials appointed last night: F. A. Lamer, associate judge; Earl G. McQuaid, secretary and clerk of scales; James Weber, starter; W. D. Risbel, timer and paddock judge.

Six races will be given daily, with purses aggregating $900. Frequent handicaps carrying with them valuable purses, will be offered.

The betting ring will be open to all reputable bookmakers and syndicate bookies will positively not be allowed. The abominable custom of allowing pool boys in the grand stand will not be tolerated and patrons will thus be free from all such annoyance.

There are more than fifty horses already quartered at the track and 100 more will be shipped from Salt Lake. These, with about 200 that will be shipped from Oakland, will assure the public that there will be no scarcity of good racing material.

It was also announced that bids for privileges will close May 15th and may be mailed to Secretary McQuaid at the European hotel in this city. Said bids must be accompanied by a certified check for 10 per cent of the amount of the bid. Bids for the program privileges will close May 11th.

STILL CHANCE TO BOOST FOR OGDEN

Federal Enumeration Closes But
Time Remains to Notify Weber
Club if Missed

Census Officials Inspect Work and Declare Correct Count
Has Been Obtained

The census takers completed their work in Ogden yesterday and their respective reports will be forwarded at once to Salt Lake, where the official count for this district is to be made.

Colonel Myton and Special Census Agent Pope arrived in Ogden last evening from Salt Lake to make a final inspection of the work done by the local enumerators and complimented the officials of the Weber club on the apparently good work that has been done in the city since the counting began.

It is announced by the Weber club officials that 500 special blanks have been received from the census headquarters which may be used in taking the registration of any who may have been missed by the local enumerators.

An effort should still be made by all residents to ascertain if any one has been overlooked in the count and in such event the fact be at once communicated to the Weber club, when a representative of the census work will call at once and secure the registration. Word may be sent by mail, messenger or telephoned to the secretary of the club.

SLAVE CHILDREN ILLEGITIMATE

California Supreme Court Says
Offspring of Marriages Before Civil War Illegal.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—According to a majority decision of the state supreme court rendered today, children born of contract marriages of slaves before the Civil war are not legitimate issues. The opinion was given in the case of Mary Jane Stephens, an aged negroess, who was sued by her children for an accounting of an estate valued at $100,000, left to her by their father, Basil Campbell.

Justice Lindenshaw wrote a dissenting opinion in which he said: "I cannot allow a doctrine which I deem so repugnant to humanity to receive even the slightest sanction of my acquiescence without a protest."

APPLE TREES IN NEED OF SPRAY

County Horticultural Inspector
Sounds Note of Warning, Saying Time is Short

Declaring that the time for spraying apple trees to free them of the destructive codling moth is exceedingly short and urging instant activity in this direction, County Horticultural Inspector R. M. Rasmussen has asked that Weber county farmers be notified through the Examiner of his decision and offers the following announcement:

"Apple growers should get busy at once, as the time of colyx is limited and the colyx cups are closing very rapidly. In fact some varieties already have closed. It is necessary to spray immediately and thoroughly to prevent the ravages of this pest. Use the following formula: Xarsonate of lead, six pounds to 120 gallons of water.

(Signed)

"R. M. RASMUSSEN."
Inspector Rasmussen supplements this notice with a warning that trees should be sprayed now, as the new law providing for the condemnation of all wormy apples will be strictly enforced in the county next fall.

Park Superintendent Van der Schult has received so many calls in regard to insects on shrubbery that he offers the following formulas used in destroying the insect pests. Six ounces of paris green to fifty gallons of water; stir while spraying, or the
